These small hotel gems are among London's best assets. The biggest perk? You'll forget you're a paying guest. By Mark Ellwood

NO. 5 MADDOX STREET

The 12 Asian-inspired suites (Chinese trunks; kimonos) are more flats than hotel rooms: each has a kitchen; some have balconies. The witty mini-bar divides treats into "good" (organic pasta), "bad" (jelly beans), and "baddest" (full-fat ice cream). 5 Maddox St., Mayfair, 44-20/7647-0200; living-rooms.co.uk; doubles from $405.
