

ESCAPE

EDITED BY DIPAL ACHARYA

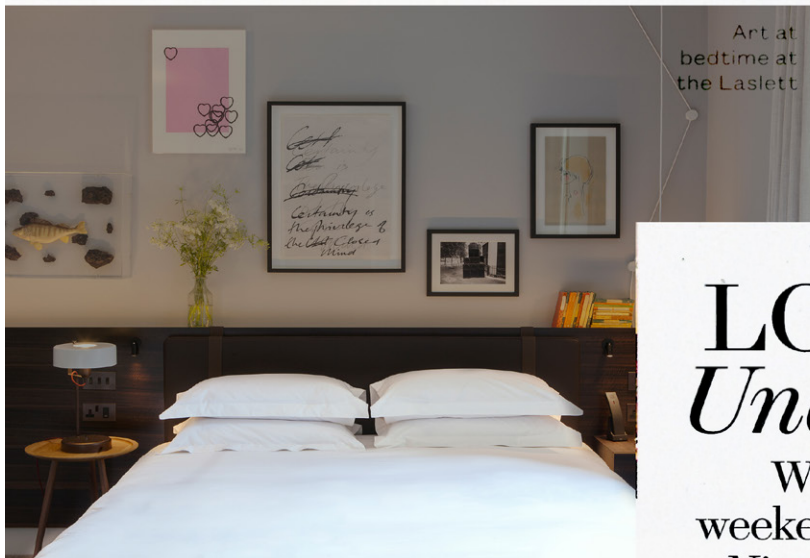

Breakfast on the terrace, and a light read at the Laslett.

THE BOHO ONE

WHERE? THE LASLETT

WHY? Set across five Victorian mansions, The Laslett is a stone's throw away from the hullabaloo of Portobello Road and the wonderland every W11 staycationer craves, with the Richard Curtis-approved views of stucco façades. Food is by neighbourhood legend, Sally Clarke, and there's art on the walls by Barbara Hulanicki and Harland Miller, as well as blooms throughout the Victorian property by the florists Scarlet & Violet. Before lights out, pad downstairs to Henderson's Bar for a Notting Hill Collins — a blend of vodka, lavender syrup and lemon juice — before retiring to your room, well-stocked with Neal's Yard skincare products and stacks of Penguin novels for bedtime reading. Rooms from £225 (living-rooms.co.uk)

Art at bedtime at the Laslett

LONDON Undercover

Want a London weekend to remember?
Niamh O'Keeffe plays tourist in her own city