*The stuff that surrounds you

five alive

IF YOU'VE JUST met your perfect partner on the plane to London, Nos Maddox Street is the place to start a discreet affair. With just twelve suites (1-, 2- and 3-bedroom options), with private kitchens, you needn't worry about bumping into someone you know in the lobby, simply because there isn't one. With complimentary grocery packs on arrival, you may be sorely tempted to take the cocooning to its limit and, for once, waive room service. As well as a maxi-bar which includes Ben & Jerry's ice-cream and full-size bottles of wine, there's wide-screen TV in every room, and stunning open fireplaces in a select few, for fanning the flames.
